UNIQUE RECORD

The retirement on January, 5th of Esq. Jno. C. Trimble, as Magistrate in the Hart-Smithville precincts, removed from the Montgomery Fiscal Court one of its oldest members in point of service, he having been a member for sixteen consecutive years and during his long tenure in office we are informed he never missed a single meeting of the court. In this respect we doubt if his record has an equal in the state.

LOCAL OPTION CASE SET FOR FRIDAY

The local option case from Montgomery county which was to have been argued before the Court of Appeals last Wednesday was continued until Friday, January 16th, owing to the illness of Judge James H. Hazelrigg, attorney for the whiskey men. The case will be tried by Judges Hobson, Settle, Miller and Turner. The result of the court's decision is being watched with much interest throughout the State.

"WITHIN THE LAW"

One of the most important announcements of the current theatrical season is that "Within the Law", Bayard Veiller's thrilling melodrama that has been thrilling audiences in New York for over a year, will be presented here soon. The American Play Company, producers have provided a clever cast of players for the local presentation and an elaborate scenic production.

FRED DIETZ MARRIED

News reached this city last week announcing the marriage of Mr. Fred Dietz to Miss Mildred Wyatt, of Whitesburg. Mr. Dietz is a son of Mr. Adolph Dietz and formerly lived in this city where he made many warm friends who will learn of his marriage with much interest.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN LEG

Little Boy Accidentally Shoots Companion Saturday Afternoon While Playing

Franklin Reynolds, the 10 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Reynolds, of this city while playing "cowboy" Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. Clay Cisco, accidentally shot his little friend Clay Cisco, Jr., in the leg a few inches above the knee with a thirty-eight caliber pistol. Fortunately the bullet did not break a bone but made only a flesh wound. Physicians were hurriedly summoned and the boy is getting along nicely. It is reported that young Reynolds had taken his father's pistol from his home without the knowledge of his parents and not knowing it was loaded and in the spirit of fun pointed it at his friend and pulled the trigger. The little chap is terribly upset over the accident and it is thought this will prove a lesson both to him and all the young boys in the city in regard to fooling with pistols.

AS TO DEBTORS

On the subject of debtors Homer Hoch prints this "box" in the Marion (Kas) Record's front page: "Some folks can't pay their debts when due, but regret it, and pay as soon as they can. Heaven prosper 'em. Some folks can pay their debts, but never do. Heaven be merciful to 'em. Some folks pay their debts cheerfully. Heaven bless 'em. Some folks pay their debts, but roar about it and abuse their creditors. Heaven pity 'em. And nothing shows folks up more than the attitude they take toward paying or trying to pay, their debts."

A newspaper subscription past due is a debt, and one that should be, and generally is, paid cheerfully.

How about yours, if in arrears? Look at the date following your name on the margin of this paper (or its wrapper, if it comes to you in a wrapper) and if in arrears, please call and settle or send remittance by mail.

LENOX SOAP

FITZPATRICK COMPETENT

Jury In County Court Finds Him To Be Able to Manage Estate

The jury in the case of W. Taylor Fitzpatrick, whereby he was trying to have his trustee set aside and his property placed in his own hands, returned a verdict for Fitzpatrick after ten minutes deliberation Saturday. The property is valued at more than $100,000, and was taken out of his hands several years ago when it was charged Mr. Fitzpatrick was incompetent to handle his estate. This is the third trial of the case. Mr. Fitzpatrick was represented by Judge Dennis Dundan, of Paris and H. B. Kinsolving, of this city. The case has been appealed to the circuit court.

BANKRUPT

The National Racket Store on South Maysville street, has closed, the owner Alfred Jones, of Paris, having filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

COMMISSION FINDS IN FAVOR OF THAW

Concord, N. H.—Harry Kendall Thaw would not be a public menace if he were released on bail, according to the report of the commission appointed by Federal Judge Aldrich to inquire into the state of Thaw's mentality.

The report says the commission finds Thaw is not afflicted with any of the mental diseases from which he was suffering when he slew Stanford White.

The finding was announced recently. While the commissioners say that they reached "a definite and positive opinion as to the present mental condition of Thaw and his probable state of mind at the time of the homicide," they refrain from expressing their opinion in view of their instruction from the court not to "embarrass any subsequent litigation where the board question of insanity might be involved."

"Upon the question of menace or danger through the granting of bail, we may, however, be permitted and are probably compelled," concludes the report, "to record our finding that whatever may have been the mental condition of Harry K. Thaw at the time of the homicide, upon which question we express no opinion, he is not now suffering from any of the forms of mental disease alleged by the prosecution at the thereto, namely, depressive insanity, paranoia, dementia praecox, or delusional insanity."

"In our opinion, it is reasonably probable that Harry Kendall Thaw's liberty under bail would not be dangerous or a menace to the public peace and safety."

In the rescript naming the commission, the judge said that after the presentation of the report, the interested parties would have an opportunity to be heard further before the question of bail was finally passed upon. No date for such a hearing has been set as yet.

FINE CLARK COUNTY FARM FOR SALE

At the same time a lot of farm implements, produce and all the live stock will be sold.

NOT TO BE A CANDIDATE

Judge J. M. Benton, of Winchester Will Not Be In The Race For Governor

Contrary to the belief of many people Judge J. M. Benton, of Winchester, will not enter the race for Governor according to an interview given the Lexington Herald reporter a few days ago, but will be a candidate to succeed himself as Circuit Judge. In the interview the Judge said in part: "The complimentary mention that John Sherman, of The Lexington Herald; Shelton Saufley, of the Interior Journal; L. C. Littrell, of the Owen County Democrat; Will J. Lampton, of the New York World, and other newspaper friends have made of my name in connection with the Governorship, was doubtless intended only to evince an act of friendly partiality, with no expectation that it would be taken seriously by me or any one else, and as such I appreciate the spirit that prompted the suggestion, but I want them and all my friends to know that, honorable as the office of Governor of this good State is, my field of service is not in the Governor's chair, and that I would not consider it a promotion from my present position."

"I hope none of my friends think that I have inspired or encouraged that suggestion, or lent a sympathy ear or eye to it, for I have not. I yet owe two years of unabated service to the people of this judicial district, and I intend to give them that without having my mind distracted by thoughts of what the future may have in store for me politically, but, to be entirely frank, if I shall feel that my service as Judge has been acceptable, and that the party to which I owe allegiance wants, and the district needs, six years more of my service, I shall very likely ask the Democrats of the district, at the proper time, to give me the nomination and thereby permit me to serve the people again in the same way that I have served them in the past, except as that service may be improved by maturer age and larger experience, with the pledge given now that I shall be exceedingly grateful for such permission, if it is granted, and not in the least disgruntled if it is not."

DELAY IN CRIMINAL TRIALS

One of the Commonwealth's Attorneys in the western section of the State is quoted as saying that what the Commonwealth needs most is speedy trials.

Examples of the law's delay are numerous in the criminal courts of Kentucky. The practice of continuing cases from term to term is all too common. Every continuance lessens the chance of conviction. It is a matter of general knowledge that most of the postponements are at the instance of the defense and are against the interests of the Commonwealth.

Every defendant in a criminal prosecution is entitled to a fair and impartial trial, but there also should be a prompt trial. No one will deny that continuances sometimes are necessary, on behalf of the Commonwealth as well as the defendant. But there is too much continuance as every intelligent observer of court proceedings knows. Postponement of cases from term to term is a very effective and very common method of delaying justice. At the same time it is costly to the taxpayers.

This evil is not likely to be remedied until there is reform in the criminal laws. The question is discussed by the bar associations and other organizations of lawyers from time to time, but the movement for reform makes slow progress. It is proper and commendable that the rights of defendants should be safeguarded. No innocent man should be convicted, but no guilty man should escape. As a matter of fact few innocent men are convicted, but many guilty ones undoubtedly escape, some with no punishment at all and others with penalties inadequate to their offense.

To give the defendant a square deal it hardly seems necessary that he should be enabled virtually to fix the date of his trial and to select a jury to his liking.—Courier-Journal.

FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, Has Found a Remedy.

Experts declare that the reason stomach disorders are so common in this country is due to hasty and careless habits of eating. Stomach troubles and run-down conditions usually go together.

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, says: "I had a bad stomach trouble for years, and became so weak that I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, and it seemed impossible to get any relief. Since taking 'Vinol' I find a remarkable improvement in my health, my digestion is much stronger, and I have gained in weight. I would not be without Vinol."

Vinol makes weak stomachs strong because it strengthens and tones up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs. Vinol is easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs, and is delicious to the taste. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

P. S.—Stop scratching, our Saxo Salve stops itching. We guarantee it. W. S. Lloyd, druggist, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

THE BUSINESS OUT-LOOK HOPEFUL

What is the business outlook for the year on which we are just entering? Former Republican office-holders tell us that things are gloomy, for the simple reason that prosperity and a Democratic Administration cannot go together. Of course, the sooner the people learn that neither party can feed the people, the better off they will be, and the nearer they will be to the economic facts.

Even here in Mt. Sterling, some of the Republicans who have not yet become reconciled to the fact that the people became tired of their misrule, are wearing long faces and talking of hard times, the wish being father to the thought. Patriotic, country-loving men that they are!

But what is the real business situation? What is the real outlook for the year 1914? The Cincinnati Enquirer, which is regarded as authority on the subject of national business and industry, prints the following editorial on the business outlook. The Enquirer is non-political and its observations cannot be called partisan or prejudiced. The Enquirer editorial reads:

"When masters of finance, as are J. P. Morgan, Jr., and Jacob H. Schiff; bankers of experience of Henry Clews; merchants, shrewd and enterprising, as Louis Gimbel and J. B. Greenhut, President of the Greenhut-Siegel-Cooper Company; general business men so well posted as Geo. W. Perkins, W. L. Saunders, President of the International Harvester Corporation; Theodore Shonts, President of the Interborough, and Irving T. Bush, of national reputation who do not hesitate to express their confidence that the business of 1914 will be better than that of the year 1913, and if their forecasts are correct it means that once more the United States is to break all records in the business activities and resultant prosperity of its energetic population.

"Expanding trade, renewal of confidence, closer and more cordial relations between the Government and business men, disappearance of distrust, doubt and uncertainty in financial, commercial and industrial circles—these cannot fail to produce excellent results for the year we now enter."

DUTY DRUG CO. INCORPORATES

Articles of incorporation for W. S. Duty and Company, of Winchester, druggists, have been filed at Frankfort. The amount of capital stock is $16,000 divided into 160 shares of the par value of $100 each. Of said 160 shares, 80 are to be common stock and 80 preferred stock.

The stock holders are R. L. Thomas, of Lexington, 38 shares common, 38 shares preferred; Irma Trent Thomas, 2 shares each, common and preferred; W. S. Duty, 40 shares each common and preferred. The highest amount of indebtedness or liability which the corporation may incur is $50,000.

Mr. Duty formerly lived in this city where he has many friends.

"These men, one and all, are in touch with the factors which make for prosperity.

"Not one is an enthusiast, not one a theorist, not a man of them all a dreamer.

"They are men who carry business affairs to successful conclusions. They represent the financial, commercial and industrial interests of the republic in a great degree, and are fully cognizant of actual conditions in our agricultural affairs.

"In interviews published in the New York Herald of Dec. 28, each of these gentlemen spoke with confidence of the business of the coming year.

"The record of 1913 was the high record of all the preceding years in the aggregate volume and value of the business of the republic, notwithstanding the unsettled and uncertain conditions attending revision of the tariff and the reform of our banking and currency system.

"It should not be forgotten by our readers that our foreign trade during the calendar year 1913 was record-breaking as to values, and that the total of our domestic commerce during that same period was far beyond that of every prior year of our history.

"In reading of local recessions of business the public is apt to forget or overlook the immense gains in the total business of the country, and it is these that tell the true story of national progress in our business affairs.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS.

The New York Sun, the greatest editorial journal of the nation, has the following optimistic view of the future of this country, which has begun under a Democratic administration. It says:

"No nation ever began a year under such favorable conditions and feelings of prosperity as the United States begins the new year of 1914. No party ever made so good in so short a time as the democrats led by their sage president Woodrow Wilson. With factories resuming work taking on thousands of the unemployed and such splendid crops as are to be found in the South and West the most chronic kicker must admit that prosperity seems to be with us.

We have the tariff question settled and are beginning to reap the benefits of cheaper clothing. We have the income tax to take from the rich revenue to help run the government. We have the new Currency Law which provides for a better banking system with a more elastic currency which is meeting with much favor and compliment by foreign nations.

The people of the entire nation rests in the attitude of confidence restored. Their exists with all a spirit of hustle and conservation, an example of which is set by the President and Cabinet officers at Washington all of whom are living at less extravagant than did their predecessors. We hear of no long trips made by the President or any of the members of the Cabinet, they are all sticking to their jobs.

Many factories are resuming work taking on thousands of unemployed and by spring the entire nation will be humming with business activity. The Panama Canal will be in full operation and the business done through it with foreign nations will be felt directly up the entire Ohio valley. With the wonderful net work of railroads the neighborhoods of plenty and those where food stuff is scarce, are directly connected and like the new banking laws relief is provided for immediately. The whole country is permeated by an era of good feeling and a prosperous year is predicted.

There is no rose without a thorn, and every peach has a hat-pin or a belt pin.

In spite of the liberal provisions of the new currency law, those grasping and soulless leeches, the bankers, continue to ask to see a man's collateral before lending him any money.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

If the country newspapers printed one-fourth the stuff sent by the Agricultural Station, the Horticultural Society, the Humane Societies, the Y. M. C. A., the Sunday-school conventions, the State Agricultural Department, the suffragettes, the Anti-Saloon League, the State Fair, the Anti-Tuberculosis Association, the Prison Commissioners, the Panama Exposition, the American Medical Association, the Anti-White Slavers, the Anti-Poisoned Needle Squad, the candidates for United States Senator, the United States Geological Survey and the scores of other "causes" that seek free advertising space there would not be room left to comment on the state of the weather or call attention to the new paint on Si Perkins' old barn, thereby depriving the city papers of their chief source of humor. Yet there are kindly-hearted people who actually think an editor is glad to get something to "fill up on."

A writer on the staff of Collier's Weekly says the strongest figures in history, the men who have led great political reforms, knew neither kin nor friends in the carrying out of the state programmes. James Stephen Hogg was one of the strongest figures in Texas history. He did not even break with kin nor friends. Woodrow Wilson will live in history as one of its strongest figures. Has he ever broken with either kin or friends? 'Tis true that he has escaped the abuse heaped on Lincoln, Jefferson Davis, Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt. It is also true that the time may come when Woodrow Wilson will not be a popular idol and will be subjected to the same indignities that were heaped upon the great reformers in American history. William Jennings Bryan is one of the strongest figures in history. He was a target for abuse for sixteen long years. But he won in the end and today his fame is international.

WHAT'S THE USE?

'What's the use to worry? You've not got long to stay. Why not take things easy As you pass along Life's way? 'Twill do no good to worry If things are going wrong— You may as well be pleasant— Meet reverses with a song.

What's the use to criticize? What's the use to knock? What's the use to ridicule, Or at some throw a rock? Don't appoint yourself a censor; No matter what you do, This great big world was never made For a chosen few.

There's none of us that's perfect— There's a few of us that stay And never stray or wander From the straight and narrow way. So when you start to hammer Some poor one who's gone astray, 'Twill do no harm to pause and think— You may lose your grip some day.

What's the use to kick one Who's just about to fall? If you do not care to help him Don't mention him at all. You'll find if you take notice That what I say be true, While there may be faults in others There's a flaw or two in you.

One of my show birds had the worst case of roup I ever saw. She was almost dead before I noticed it. I purchased a bottle of Bourbon Poultry Cure and I took a feather and dipped it into the medicine and swabbed out her throat as far down as I could reach. I also put a liberal quantity in her soft feed and drinking water, and today she is well and sound and is laying nearly every day. It is certainly the most remarkable medicine I ever saw. I would not think of being without it and I hope to induce other poultrymen to keep it on hands constantly.—Joseph VanZiegler, State Vice President and Life Member of American Buff Plymouth Rock Club, of Indiana, and proprietor of Golden Glow Poultry Yards, 221 W. #### GENERAL SIMON B. BUCKNER DEAD

General Simon Bolivar Buckner, last surviving lieutenant general of the Confederate army, died at his home, "Glen Lily," in Hart county, near Munfordville, Thursday.

Infirmities of age, which had impaired his health, though not his spirit, during the last year of more, caused his death. For days he had been unconscious. Since Sunday night his wife and only surviving child, Lieutenant Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., who was called home from his post at Fort Thomas, had been at his bedside almost constantly. They were seated at the side of the bed, while neighbors gathered about them, when death came.

Born Near Munfordville.

General Simon Bolivar Buckner was born on a farm near Munfordville, Hart county, Kentucky, April 1, 1823, and was therefore, in the ninety-first year of his age. He was the son of Hon. Aylett Hartswell and Elizabeth Ann (Morehead) Buckner.

General Buckner was graduated from West Point in 1844, and was immediately assigned as a second lieutenant in the Second United Infantry. From 1845 to 1846 he was assistant instructor in ethics at West Point and on May 9, 1846, was transferred to the Sixth United States Infantry, and he was regimental quartermaster from August 8 to December 17, 1847. On August 20, 1847, General Buckner was brevetted first lieutenant "for gallant and meritorious conduct" at the battle of Churubusco, one of the important conflicts of the Mexican War, and on September 8, 1847, was made a captain in the same regiment for gallantry at the battle of Molino del Rey. For two years (1848-1850) Captain Buckner was assistant instructor of infantry tactics at West Point, and on the last day of December, 1851, he was made a first lieutenant of tactics at the academy.

Returns To Kentucky.

Captain Buckner resigned from the United States army March 26, 1858 and returned to his former home in Hart county. From 1860 to 1861 he was inspector-general of Kentucky. In September, 1861, General Buckner was brevetted brigadier-general in the Confederate army. From February to August, 1862, he was a prisoner of war and in the following year he was made major-general. In September, 1864, General Buckner achieved his highest distinction in the service of the southern army when he was created a lieutenant general. General Buckner married Miss Delia Claiborne, of Richmond, Va., in 1886, and she survives him. The year after his marriage General Buckner was elected Governor of Kentucky, and served four years. General Buckner was a member of the Kentucky Constitutional Convention from Hart county, which sat at Frankfort in 1891, and which framed the fourth and present constitution of Kentucky. General Buckner's last appearance in public life was in 1896, when he made the race on the Gold Democratic ticket for Vice President of the United States. John M. Palmer, a native of Kentucky, who had been Governor and United States Senator from Illinois, made the race for President on the ticket with General Buckner.

For the last eighteen years General Buckner has lived very quietly on his farm in Hart county, taking little part in public affairs. It was often reported that General Buckner was writing his reminiscences of public men and measures, but he died without having published that or any other book.

He was buried at Frankfort, Ky.

Charles L. Simon, Florist successor to John Corbitt. Phone 435 19-1f.

LEGISLATIVE ECONOMY

If the Legislature really needs the "extra help" about which it has been wrangling, there will be no serious objection from the taxpayers to its making provision therefor. If the chief object of the "extra help" is to pay political debts, and the Capitol is to be overrun with supernumerary employees, it will be well to cut out some of the extras.

The people of the State would like to see economy practiced at Frankfort, and that, too, in little things as well as in those of larger importance. "He that is faithful in little will be faithful in much." The present legislative session will be much more costly than the sessions which have preceded it. The members, for instance, will draw twice as much pay as formerly has been drawn. If there is no retrenchment of expenses, it should be applied all along the line, and there should be no padding of the payrolls with employees who are not required.

The Legislature should have all the "help" that is needed for the prompt and orderly transaction of business. Beyond that it should draw the line. It should go very slowly in the matter of creating new positions and new offices. We already have too many officeholders in Kentucky, and it would be a sensible proceeding to lop off some of them. There are too many counties and there are more judicial districts than are necessary, and it is to be hoped there will be no effort to increase the number of either.

If unwise appropriations are made and the State's money is frittered away in superfluous ex-

The world is to each of us just what we are ourselves. The good find good everywhere and the evil find evil in all things; what the inner heart feels the eyes discover without.

According to the State Journal of Frankfort, legislators used to be called "law givers." That was before they learned that giving away a salable commodity was economic folly.

CORN SENT FROM

THE ARGENTINE

Nearly 200,000 bushels of Argentine corn is being unloaded in New York and millions more from South America republics are under contract.

The importations are the direct result of the removal of the duty on the staple under the recent tariff act.

More than 1,000,000 bushels have been received in the United States since the tariff went into effect, the first from the Argentine ever brought here, and already the competition with American corn has forced a decline in cash values.

Thirteen ships are either en route here or loading with corn from the Argentine, and one American manufacturing concern, which uses corn in the manufacture of syrups and kindred products, have 5,000,000 bushels from that country under contract for delivery.

The corn already here found railroads unprepared to handle it, and the port without adequate docking facilities. Arrangements to remedy the deficiencies are being made by the transportation bureau of the product exchange.

The fact that hereto practically no corn has ever moved west has also confronted the railroads with a new rate problem, and there is a movement on foot among the importers to have the present nominal rate for western shipment reduced.

THE SHORT DAYS

The short days of December and January are unwelcome. They involve extra work, and roll up some burdensome lighting bills. No form of illumination can take the place of sunlight. In factories very thorough lighting systems may seem about like daylight. Yet there is a tonic inspiration in the sun's cheerful rays that no artificial light can supply.

In the dimly lighted rural home, the housewife blunders about, hampered by the lamp she must carry in her hand. She strains her eyes trying to finish the day's task of needlework by fading twilight. In many country workshops oil lamps are still used. Time spent cleaning and trimming them and in dodging shadows is dead factory loss.

In the northern parts of Europe, where there are not more than five or six hours of daylight at this time, the latitude must be a distinct business handicap. Fortunately the United States lies nearer the sun.

To some people the early dark has suggestions of quiet repose. But to the majority, longer days will bring a message of spring-time and drawing hope.

THE APPEARANCE OF PROSPERITY

One of the reasons why advertising has grown so enormously of recent years is that merchants realize that a business to succeed must carry an atmosphere of prosperity.

The man who enters a business office with soiled clothes, and face unshorn, and muddy boots, is not apt to get a job. This may be due to superficial judgments, but people have to make the best use they can of exterior indications.

Similarly the public judges of a merchants' success by exterior signs. A business man who does not advertise conveys an impression of passiveness and indifference, of slow-going, old fashioned methods.

The public values enterprise in retail trade higher than almost any other one quality. Liberal advertising is to a merchant what good clothes and a clean cut appearance are to a salesman. It suggests that a merchant is prosperous, that he has in the past succeeded in pleasing the public, that he is alert enough to get good bargains for his customers. It shows that he has such confidence in his goods that he is willing to spend money to tell people about them.

THE MAN WHO WINS.

The man who wins is the man who works,
The man who toils while the next
The man who stands in his deep distress.

With head held high in the deadly press.

Yes, he is the man who wins.

The man who wins is the man who knows

The good of pain and the worth of woes;

Who a lesson learns from the man who fails

And a moral finds in his mournful wails—

Yes, he is the man who wins.

The man who wins is the man who stays

In unsought paths and the rocky ways,

And perhaps, who lingers, now and then,

To hold out a helping hand to men—

Ah, he is the man who wins!

—St. Paul Dispatch.

IT SUITS WANAMAKER

The briskness of retail trade is the ultimate expression of prosperity. It is, therefore, interesting to read the opinion of John Wanamaker upon the Democratic Tariff Bill.

Says the multi-millionaire merchant, a Republican, by the way, and a former Cabinet officer:

"It is a much better bill than I expected, and I believe it possible for the manufacturers to adjust themselves to the changed conditions in at least two-thirds of the items in the new schedules."

Mr. Wanamaker attributes the defeat of the Republicans in 1912 to "deaf, blind and dumb" leadership. Trade and commerce, he finds, are in healthy condition. Speculation is less active than trade. There is no observable lack of confidence.

"Worth More Than it Costs"

Lots of farmers declare their telephone service is worth more than it costs. J. W. Harris, a well-known farmer living near Choccolocco, Ala., writes:

"I had occasion to call our doctor not two hours after my telephone was connected with your exchange. My mother, who is very old, fell down the door steps and broke her arm, and I called the doctor. He was at my house before I could have gone to his residence, as he has an automobile.

"We would not be without our telephone for more than it costs and appreciate the assistance you rendered us."

Our free booklet tells how you may have telephone service on your farm at small cost. Write for it today. A postal will do.

LITTLE GIRL

You've a very narrow skirt,
Little Girl,
Are you sure it doesn't hurt,
Little Girl?
That's a mincing stride
Where the street is wild and wide;
Are you sure there's room inside,
Little Girl?
What will happen if you slip,
Little Girl?
Aren't you fearful it will rip,
Little Girl?
You would better take a sack,
So if any thing should crack,
It would serve you coming back,
Little Girl.
Does your mamma know you're out,
Little Girl?
We're afraid to go about,
Little Girl,
If we met you in the sun
With your skirt so thinly spun,
Why, we might all have to run,
Little Girl.
Let the bottom out a bit,
Little Girl.
It is much too tight a fit,
Little Girl.
As the matter sadly stands,
You'll be walking on my hands,
And in that event—my hands!

BIG DEAL IN MULES

Caywood & McClintock, of Paris, have sold to Southern buyers sixty-seven head of mules for a total of $13,400. The prices ranged from $190 to $200 each. They sold to J. S. Jordan, of Hawkinsville, Ga., twenty-five mules at $200 all around; to Thomas Harmon, of South Carolina, twenty-two head at $190 each, and to William Roberts, of South Carolina, twenty head at $200 each. The mules were bought in Bourbon and Harrison counties.

Life is one sad succession of rainy days, with all the umbrellas lent out to the neighbors.

THE BARBERLESS

BARBERSHOP

And now the barberless barbershop! It has been established in Chicago in the "nickel bed" hotel which surpasses even the Mills hotels of New York in providing for the comfort of the needy at cut rates.

Every man who occupies a bed in the Dawes hotel is entitled to leave the place next morning with his shoes and face shining in their separate ways. But there is no service. The polish for his shoes is free. He may get a safety razor from the clerk, gratis, and the soap in the lavatory will supply the lather, a dependable two-purpose soap being used. He may shave himself.

Everyone who has worked for a living, and looked for work, knows that the neat-looking man with polished shoes and shaven face has an advantage over the man with a growth of stubble and a pair of rusty shoes. The object of the Dawes Hotel is a worthy one. The free shave and shine will be worth a great deal to men who are temporarily down-and-out, but who are really seeking work.

Barbershops, doubtless because the cost of living has necessitated an increase in the cost of being shaven, are growing quite plutocratic from the point of view of the poor man. Services cost more than they formerly did and tipping is not unheard of. A free shave may be worth more to a man who is looking for work than the mere fifteen cents which would be paid for being shaved in a barbershop, and it is just when being clean shaven would have the highest value that a man finds it hard to secure the services of the barber.—Courier Journal.

The Lord must love the common people; he made so many of them.

WHAT IS TRUE LOVE?

What true love is, no one can tell. Go ask fair Ruth, the Moabite, Heloise, Abelard or Bebekah at the well. What would these immortal lovers say? Ask Rebekah. She would say that true love is the love that makes a woman get up and leave father and mother, and kindred and home, and follow a man to the end of the earth; that makes his country henceforth her country; his people her people, and his gods her gods. Such a love is a miracle, past all explaining, and its wonder is that it is repeated, over and over again, down to this very day, and before our very eyes. When you meet little Mrs. Smith in New York at a tea party and she tells you that she is a San Francisco girl and came East to live when she married, lower your eyes and tread softly, for the ground whereon she stands is holy ground, sanctified by great love. She loves as did Rebekah, and has sacrificed as much, and as freely and as gladly. For the sake of a man she has journeyed into a far country. She has left her father who cherished her, the mother who bore her on her breast, the sisters and brothers who were a part of her very existence. She has given up home and friends and all the dear familiar associations of a lifetime, just because a handsome stranger has come whistling across her pathway and has whistled the heart out of her bosom. It is love that makes the world go round, and it is love of the truest kind that makes a woman forsake all that she has known and loved before, and, without a backward regret, follow a man wherever his fortunes should ask Heloise, what would she say? She would say that true love is the love that gives itself without counting the cost; that cries, "All for love and the world well lost!" It is true grand passion that sweeps all before it in some tremendous cyclonic emotion, and that leaves—oftener than not—desolation and death in its wake. There are many women who love as Heloise loved, and her fate is the common fate of all; for it is the sad destiny of those who love not wisely, but too well, to be betrayed, deserted, scorned. You see them in the sad sisterhood of the suicides graves, or dragging out in sorrow and tears the long links of a blighted life. They have had their brief hour of bliss when they drank the cup of love to the dregs—but its lees were bitter! God help all women who love as did Heloise.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

A NEW KIND OF PRISON

The State of Ohio is preparing for a radical reversal of its prison system. Arrangements are being made for placing the convicts on a 1,600 acre farm which will be modeled after the municipal farm used by the city of Cleveland in lieu of a workhouse.

The idea was suggested by the Rev. Harris R. Cooley, for some years director of charities in Cleveland, and it has been adopted enthusiastically by Gov. Cox. Most criminals, the Governor believes, are persons whose mental powers are weak, and can be helped into the right course. Whether he is over-sanguine remains to be seen, but there is no doubt that he is right when he says: "If there is anything that lead him. If she were asked what is true love, what would Ruth say? Ruth would say true love is service, and patience, and she might incidentally add, as a tip to her sex, that the woman who simply inundates a man with her affection is pretty sure to get him at the last. He has to marry her to save his life! Ruth's particular brand of love is the love that makes itself a soft carpet for a man's feet, and a pillow for his head; that is a cloak that shelters him from the cold of winter, and a fan that cools and soothes him in summer. It isn't particularly romantic, or heroic love, and it doesn't sweep a man off his feet in any gust of passion; but it is comfortable, and wholesome, and—before a man knows it—it has become necessary to him. And then he marries Ruth, and never regrets it, and—poor humble soul—lives ever after in the seventh heaven of matrimonial bliss. There are many women who love like Ruth. You see them—spinsters, feigning interest in some subject that bores them to death to please some man; happy when he notices them, unresting when he neglects them; praying, hoping for a dilly-dallying lover to come to the point, and eagerly anxious to pick up his handkerchief when he drops it; wives waiting with heart-broken patience for roaming husbands to come back to them, when they grow old and worn out with the world. Oh, there are so many, many Ruths who give so much and ask so little; and it is such a comfort to reflect that in the end persistent love seldom fails of its regard. And what is true love? If you society has tried and made a complete failure of it is the old-time method of dealing with the so-called criminals—really a relic of the dark ages."

In the new "penitentiary" there will be no cells. The prisoners are to be supplied with white iron beds and they are to be worked out of doors without guards. There will be a school for their benefit and they also will be taught trades so that when their terms expire they will be able to earn an honest living. They are to have the advantage of all the latest discoveries in scientific penology. Gov. Cox says the prison farm is not to be a penitentiary, "only a great institution to make men out of those who have gone wrong."

Possibly some of the prisoners will not appreciate this kind of treatment, but if the majority of them do, the experiment will be justified. Criminals are not reformed by the contract labor system. Crime is not suppressed by cruelty. The prisoners cannot make men out of defectives and delinquents by applying the lash, the water cure or the stringing-up process. It is perhaps a question if this can be done by going to the other extreme and endeavoring to control prisoners solely by kindness and moral suasion. Ohio's experiment in that line will be of nation-wide interest.—Courier-Journal.

CLIPPINGS FROM SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

While we are peacefully sleeping in our sanctum some miscreant entered and stole our only pair of boots. We are thankful that we had on our shirt at the time, and that we still have our hat which we can pass around and take up a collection.

For one turkey we will send you the paper three years; for enough turkey to feed our family of thirteen you may have the paper for a lifetime.

If our readers don't cough up what is due us by Saturday night, this is the last column of staph the present editor Captain Jack Barnett, (who is us) will ever inflict upon you in the Torchlight. Providing, of course, the sheriff doesn't get us before we are gone. Gone where the cockle-bur thriveth, the jaybird hoppeth and the grasshopper exclaimeth, "Get a hump on, you red-headed scissorbill."

The editor of the Torchlight is in trouble again. Last week we stated that Mr. Alfonso Gunther kissed his fiancée, Miss Wily Gill under the silent stars and then beat it to the parson's and were married, but our old drunken printer got it, Kicked His Fiancee Under The Cellar Stairs. Alfonso and Wily are very angry about it and declare that they intend to beat seven kinds of tar out of us.

W. C. Herman says that hypocrisy, superstition ignorance and high taxes has might nigh ruin his little town.

The meetin' busted at Peavine Ridge Sunday night, and was a howling success (accent on howling.) "Skinny" Ellison and Will St. Auburn were turned into the straight and narrow trail, and it's to be hoped a lot of old debts will be settled now.

"Mrs. Mary Russell" was strangled while shouting at the Methodist meeting at Snagtown Sunday night. Dock Sology, the deacon, beat her in the back till she got use of her wind again. Thus far, no causes is given for her shouting.

"There will be a candy pulling" at Miss Wylie Gill's on New Year's eve night. All young men of the settlement are urged to come sober. There will be no turkey trottin' or tango monkey business either, as old man Wilson says he will not tolerate such stuff.

To J. L. Regan:—As editor of the Snagtown Torchlight and proprietor of the Dun Front Saloon I beg to acknowledge receipt of your new book, and as soon as I am out of the hands of my physicians, I shall look it over. At present I am forbidden to take any risks.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

In the prize ring defeat comes with the count of ten. So in the large arena of life, a man is beaten when Spunk deserts him. Then Father Time snaps his fingers and says, "Your are out."

You cannot build up a business, you cannot sell real estate, you cannot exchange your brain or brawn for cash, you cannot lift your head above the common herd, unless you have Spunk.

Suburban Home —AT— PUBLIC AUCTION

As agent for the owners, Greene & Tabb, I will sell at Public Auction, on the premises on the Winchester pike, on at 2 o'clock p. m., their small suburban farm, improved, containing between 6 and 7 acres of land. This land is very rich and is ready for the culture of tobacco or any other crop. It has been made rich by the spreading of hundreds of loads of manure, tobacco stalks and fertilizer. The land lays well, and is in such a condition that it will make anyone a good living. It is well watered by city water, cistern, and spring or branch. The fencing is good. The ground is all sowed in grass.

Improvements consist of a 5 room cottage, with summer kitchen or cabin in the yard and all necessary outbuildings. There is natural gas in the cottage, hydrant at the door, and electric light in front of the residence. There is also a tobacco barn, practically new, 40 x 110 feet, built from select lumber, and having a galvanized iron roof. There is also an auto house, small stable, good corn crib, with an excellent garden spot and an excellent young orchard. All of the buildings are in good, habitable condition.

The place can be easily rented for a good income, or you can occupy the residence and the grounds and rent the tobacco barn for $150 per year.

This is one of the nicest suburban places that has been put on the market in many years, and will make an ideal home, or small dairy farm or chicken ranch. It is located just outside the city limits, with all the city conveniences and within 10 minutes walk of the Court-house. The neighborhood cannot be surpassed. The property fronts on the Winchester pike and adjoins the home of J. Clay Cooper and Peter Kelly, and is one of the healthiest locations in the county.

If you are looking for something real good for a home or an investment proposition that can be bought cheap, this is your best opportunity.

Possession of the place will be given on March 1, 1914 and the terms of sale will be 1-3 cash, 1-3 in 12 months and 1-3 in 24 months, deferred payments secured by lien on the property, or you can pay as much more cash or all cash, if you so desire.

I will take pleasure in showing the property, or for any further information you can call on H. G. Tabb or J. O. Greene. If you miss this sale, you will let one of the best bargains ever offered in the county slip through your fingers. Be on hand Thursday, January 29th, and buy you a good piece of the earth at your own price.

DEVELOPING THE YEARLING TROTTER

The tendency of the times is for early speed. The man with his finger on the public pulse can see this. We now have 100 lb. pigs at 6 months, 1200 lb. bees at 18 months, and yearling trotters with the speed of old horses. It's but right and proper that the yearling of the present day should have the speed of the matured horse of 30 years ago.

We have early development in all other kinds of live stock: why not in the trotter. Is the breeder of the "best horse" on earth inferior in intellect, and attainment to the man who makes the steer, and the pig? No! a thousand times no! If they were they would be behind the times, and a man might just as well be dead as behind in the race of life. We are living in a fast age. Early development is the watchword, but it does not mean (as it once did) "early decay," since science is teaching us here to prolong life, and it claims that a man's mind is strongest at 60 years, provided it is kept at work, and not allowed to rust.

The cost of production is now so great that no business that does not pay will survive. Eliminate the giving of mile records against time to yearlings if you will but do give us in its place plenty of stakes of half mile dashes. Fix it so that the breeder can make expense money and at the same time add to the value of his trotters. There cannot possibly be any injury to them in a half mile dash, for a bunch of well fed yearlings turned into a pasture will take more than that amount of exercise at the trot as fast as they can go without stopping. I know, for I have seen them do it. A sharp snap, closely contested, half mile dash race will entertain and arouse the enthusiasm of the people who pay at the gate, and they will come in crowds to see it, for there is nothing equal to a good "horse race," with plenty of contestants to draw a crowd and make it go wild with enthusiasm. Show me a man whose blood would not tingle at the sight of a half dozen "baby trotters" finishing in a bunch under the wire. Half mile running races draw crowds, why would not half mile dash races for yearling trotters? Every county in Kentucky (The mother of Trotters) should have a county fair, and each fair should give 2 stakes each for 1 2 and 3 year old trotters, one stake each for youngsters bred in the county and the other three open to the competition of the world. Such a course would make money for the fair, would do the county good and would advance the interest of this, the grandest breed of horses on the earth, viz: The "American Trotter," who has no equal as a general purpose horse, since he is good on the track, pulling the carriage, plow or wagon, and under the saddle.

He is good and useful, everywhere, and at all times; he is the only horse that is good at everything. He is a jack of all trades, and good at them all. He is the king of the equine race, all honor, praise and glory to "the trotter," the only breed having its origin in America, and without an equal in the world.

Naturally I take pride in my native county, it's progressive and it would be no surprise to me if our fair will be the 1st one in America to give yearling half mile dash races. There are more men here interested in the trotting horse, than any other county in the state, and it is only a question of time when it will be the leading trotting horse breeding county of Kentucky. It was once, years ago the leading short-horn section of America, and at present time is the leading market of Kentucky for sale of feeding cattle. Our people are naturally ambitious and take pride in excelling at any and everything they undertake.
